

63 Deluxe

A fresh new vital sound, steeped in the classics but riding along a stretch of highway where blues, funk, rock and soul converge to create an original path. An experienced Australian power trio with muscle but also keen songwriting craft and musical finesse, the band delivers a vital sound that honours the classics while pushing the genre into a contemporary realm.

With guitarist and vocalist Anthony Scott, bassist Bret Hann and drummer/vocalist Jack Thomson, 63 Deluxe are travelling down the road of new contemporary Australian Blues. Born out of friendship and hardship, but continued through the love of music and expression, the guys in 63 Deluxe are bringing their take on the music they would want to hear. Taking influence from the likes of Matt Schofield, Jon Cleary, Jeff Beck, Joe Bonamassa and much more, the band aim to stay fresh and always push themselves musically to new directions, whilst still keeping roots to the past.

Since their inception in 2022, 63 Deluxe has released 6 singles, 2 albums, a Nashville recorded EP and 9 official music videos, all the while consistently gaining an online presence and followers. The release of their debut album in November 2024 saw it go to #2 on both the Australian radio Airplay charts and the Australian Regional AMRAP charts. Their accolades include competing in the prestigious International Blues Challenge in Memphis in 2025 which culminated in the "Memphis to Nashville" EP recorded in Nashville. The EP going on to reach number 1 on the ABARAC charts in Australia and attract peer acclaim by reviewers and fellow Australian artists.

With the dawn of 2026 came the band's third release "Side Ways" quickly gaining 2nd position on the ABARAC charts. "Side Ways" captures a band more relaxed in its skin and willing to stretch out musically, moving from gritty blues workouts to funk driven grooves and soulful, late-night textures seamlessly. With this latest release, 63 Deluxe continue to carve out their own corner of the Australian music landscape. unforced, unpretentious and built completely on feel.

With their latest release gaining traction, new song ideas and inspiration are now demanding attention. The enthusiasm to create is strong and the enjoyment of the process is the payoff, promising more electrifying music and continued growth as the boys get back to work!
